

Statement from Conor Houghton to Bath & North East Somerset Council meeting – 18th February 2014.

I wish to also speak in favour of a pedestrian crossing at Julian Road. I know this junction as a cyclist and as someone who brings children to school at St Andrews school. It is terrifying. I know that the configuration of the crossing makes it awkward to locate a crossing there, but it is precisely these details of the configuration that make it so difficult for pedestrians and cyclists; it encourages crazy behaviour from motorists, they are like teenagers at a disco, they have eyes only for each other and no self-control.
