There have been no recent increases in the charges made by the Registration Service for Ceremonies, most notably for those held in The Guildhall, Bath, and consequently they have now become significantly out of step with the market and contain some internal inconsistencies. E2889 Adoption of informal planning Guidance on commercial signage and the placing of tables and chairs on the highway in Bath Conservation Area

Cabinet Member - Homes and Planning

Author/Contact: Paula Freeland

Free to Decide: Not before 23rd Jul 2016

Well-placed and designed signage, advertising and outdoor eating facilities can contribute to the economy and vitality of Bath. If poorly sited and badly designed it can be counter-productive to the positive image and beauty of the City.

Design and Conservation guidance has been prepared to support a clear and consistent approach by the Council when dealing with these matters throughout Bath Conservation Area. It is intended that the guidance will be for informal use by Development Management when determining applications for planning and listed building consent, as well as being a point of reference for property owners, retailers and agents.

It supplements both the saved B&NES Local Plan policies BH.17 – BH.21 on this matter, and the emerging Placemaking Plan Policy D.9 'Advertising and Street Furniture for Commercial Premises'.

The draft guidance was included as part of the stakeholder consultation on the Draft Placemaking Plan. One detailed response was received to the public consultation on the guidance. This came from Bath Preservation Trust and the document has been amended where appropriate in response to the comments received.
